

Walking with Jesus

As Jesus was walking along, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax booth; and he said to him, "Follow me." And he got up and followed him. ~Matthew 9:9

By LINDA BROWNE
Stewardship Committee

Matthew, a government worker in Capernaum, was wealthy – a man of privilege. Tax collectors would keep for themselves a hefty percentage of what they took from the citizens, and so they lived large. They were scorned for their greed, hence the frequent phrase in the bible, “tax collectors and sinners.”

What had Matthew seen and heard from Jesus that he would leave everything behind? Can you see Jesus beckoning him with an outstretched hand, inviting him to live a new way? Incredibly, Matthew left his comfort zone, took Jesus up on the opportunity, and followed Jesus all over Galilee, soon becoming one of his 12 disciples. What a transformation Jesus’ generosity and faithfulness made possible in Matthew!

We take from Matthew’s journey with Jesus this year’s stewardship campaign theme, “Walking with Jesus on a Journey of Generosity.” As followers of Jesus, we also have a lifelong opportunity to walk together on a journey of discipleship. Day by day, step by step, we pilgrims seek to imitate our Lord when he says, “Follow me.”

Walking in the way of Jesus as a family of faith is demanding and exciting, especially as we are called to respond to the needs of our community and the world. Together, we can increase and expand our ministries and financial commitments. We’ve met ministry challenges in the past, and each time, we grow in joy as we learn to be faithful followers of Jesus.

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey with Jesus, we invite you to take the next step.

- For some, the next step is to begin giving regularly what you can.
- For others, the next step is to give an additional $1 a day for the year.
- And for others, the next step is to increase your giving to the mission of Knollwood by 1% of your annual income.

New Beginnings in the Empty Place

By BOB SETZER JR.

When I was a boy, one of my best friends moved away.

We did everything together from playing touch football and schoolyard golf to exploring the woods near our neighborhood. But then his daddy got transferred, and my safe, predictable world shuddered with shock and loss. I was devastated.

Losing people who have shaped and defined us is one of life's toughest challenges. So I, and we, have some work to do upon receiving the hard news that Diane is finishing up her work as our Minister of Faith Formation and Education effective Oct. 31.

Imagine having Diane Lipsett as one's colleague, confidant, and friend. That has been my privilege for nearly five years now. Like many others, I have turned to Diane for counsel when facing tough decisions. I have dreamed with her about new ventures of faith and mission at KBC. I have laughed with her in the good times and shared tears when facing the loss of yet another dear Knollwood family member and friend. I have been blessed by her calm, serene spirit, while also knowing I could count on her to speak the truth. It is hard for me to imagine my life, or our congregational life, without her as a minister on our staff.

And yet I am happy for Diane that her demanding schedule as both a Knollwood minister and a full-time professor of religion at Salem College can now be trimmed back. I suspect many KBC members don't realize that Diane's position at Knollwood is, on paper, a part-time position. But given Diane's competence, passion, and commitment to Christ and his Kingdom, she doesn't invest in anything that matters in a part-time way. When Diane accepts a challenge to teach and lead, she is all in. That's why our church's debt to her runs so deep.

At present, the Personnel Committee is working to secure interim staffing to oversee the work of Faith Formation and Education at Knollwood. Once that support is in place, Personnel will appoint a search committee to evaluate what, if any, changes are needed in our ministry of spiritual formation. In time, the search committee will present a candidate to continue leading our church in this vital work. I trust God is preparing that person even now.

Yes, when my childhood friend moved away, it left an empty place in my heart. But in time, that empty place created an opening for new friends, new learnings, new adventures. Life was not the same without my friend, but life was good and rich and full in new ways, that had he stayed, would not have been possible.

I hope and believe the same will prove true for Knollwood. Diane's departure as a KBC staff minister, however unwelcome, will create the space and opportunity for other leaders, both lay and clergy, to emerge. And in time, God will lead this congregation into another rich and rewarding chapter of faith, learning, and service.

After all, we worship a God who knows how to birth new life in the dark depths of a tomb. There, the world as we knew it, came crashing down. And there, a whole new world and future, was born.

Blessings,

Bob

Diane Lipsett Resigns

On Friday, Sept. 20, Diane Lipsett's letter of resignation was mailed to the Knollwood family. In her letter, Diane indicated she is ready to focus her time and energy on her scholarship and teaching at Salem College. Consequently, she is resigning as Knollwood's Minister of Faith Formation and Education effective Oct. 31, 2019. A copy of Diane's letter can be downloaded and read here: http://content.knollwood.org/2019\_Documents/DianesLetterWeb.pdf

The Personnel Committee, along with all our Knollwood family, are grateful for Diane's nearly five years of exemplary service among us. She has led and taught us with wisdom, skill, and caring. She has helped us better understand the biblical witness and apply those truths to our daily lives and the world about us. She has deepened our congregation's commitment to and reflection upon our mission. She has led in worship and ministered among us with a grace and kindness like Christ's own. Diane will be greatly missed. Diane's many contributions to the work of spiritual formation at Knollwood will continue to bear fruit for years to come.

The personnel committee has begun the work of securing an interim Minister of Faith Formation and Education. Once that position has been filled, the committee will do an assessment of what changes, if any, are needed. Then a search for Diane's successor will begin.

So with gratitude and sadness, we bless Diane as she begins the next chapter of her service to our Lord and his church. And with faith and confidence, we trust our gracious God to lead Knollwood into a future full of promise.

World Communion Sunday

By ROZANNA GOOCEY

Minister of Music

October 6, 2019 is World Communion Sunday, and it is one of my favorite Sundays of the year. However, having a special Sunday called "World Communion Sunday" is misleading, because every communion we celebrate is always, in truth, a global gathering with Christians throughout the world. We at Knollwood are only one part of Christ's body in the world, and our remembrance and celebration of Christ's life, death, and resurrection at the table is always joined (through heart, mind, and body) to every other part of Christ's body, in every part of the world, who remembers and celebrates the mystery of Christ's redemptive work. World Communion Sunday, though, as a special celebration, calls to the forefront of our minds the oneness we share with all God's people through faith.

With this in mind, we at Knollwood are going to sing hymns and songs on Oct. 6 that highlight our unity with Christians of all nationalities and languages.

The Youth Choir will lead us in one of these wonderful songs, which we will use as the Prayers of the People: For the Troubles and Sufferings of the World (Pelas Dores Deste Mundo). This hymn is known as the "Brazilian Kyrie," and its author acknowledges that when composing it, he wanted to remind Christian communities that in our corporate worship we pray not only for ourselves, but also for the needs of the world.

*For the troubles and the sufferings of the world,
God, we call upon your mercy;
The whole creation's laboring in pain!
Lend an ear to the rising cry for help from oppressed and
hopeless people:
Come! Hasten your salvation, healing, love!
We pray for peace, the blessed peace that comes from making justice, to cover and embrace us. Have mercy, Lord!
We pray for power, the power that will sustain your people's witness: until your Kingdom come. Kyrie eleison!*

Much of our worship on World Communion Sunday will also draw us into prayers of thanksgiving and petition for all of God's creation. We'll sing the beloved hymn, This is My Maker's World, we will read the story of Creation, and we will listen to the Youth Choir sing a song from Mexico that rejoices in God's marvelous creation. I hope you'll plan to be in worship on Oct. 6 so that you join with all creation in prayer and celebration of God's saving work in Christ.

Option 1: "Love Your Neighbor" – the View from My Block

Jesus' command, "Love your neighbor," may sound different depending who your neighbors are and what neighborhood you live in. In these two weeks, guest speakers from varied parts of Winston-Salem invite us to see the diversity of our city more clearly and perhaps more lovingly.

On Oct. 2, we will welcome Carla Rumph Brown for a conversation with her friend (and ours) Sylvia Oberle about loving your neighbor in a particular neighborhood in Winston-Salem. A third-generation funeral director at Clark S. Brown & Sons Funeral Home, Carla was born and raised in Winston-Salem. A graduate of RJ Reynolds High School and UNC Chapel Hill, she attends First Baptist Church on Highland Avenue and has served on several non-profit board of directors, most recently Crisis Control Ministry and Bethlehem Community Center. Carla and her family live in her grandparents' house on Cameron Avenue, in historic Reynoldstown.

On Oct. 9, we will welcome two of the many community partners collaborating on the Oct. 10 event with Nikole Hannah-Jones. We'll hear how the need for educational equity for all our city's children is heard and lived in different neighborhoods of our city, and in particular, how ministers and churches hear equity as an expression of "Love your neighbor."

Minister of Faith Formation and Education

Bless This Mess

By CHRISSEY HARDY

Children's Ministry Associate

Do you ever feel like your life is a mess? House is a mess, kids are a mess, maybe even some of your relationships feel like a mess? I am so excited for this year's Family Retreat theme: Bless This Mess. We will be reminded that we're all pretty messy and explore ways that we can love each other as God loves us, with all our beauty, flaws, and imperfections. There will be lots of messy games, messy art, messy music and more.

The parent session this year will be led by Michael and Ann Usey of College Park Baptist Church, Greensboro, and we'll be discussing the new parenting book Bless This Mess: A Modern Guide to Faith and Parenting in a Chaotic World by Rev. Molly Baskette and Ellen O'Donnell, PhD. They marry a spiritual and scientific approach to gentle parenting that results in one of the best parenting books I've ever read. Whether your children are toddlers or teenagers, you will benefit from the wisdom they share.

Join Rozanna, Josh, and me for a weekend your family won't soon forget. Nov. 16-17 at Camp Mundo Vista in Ashboro. Registration closes on Oct. 30, so don't delay. www.knollwood.org/events/family-retreat-at-mundo-vista.

October Happenings

Fall Hayride

Please join us for a Fall Hayride through Tanglewood Park and a visit to their pumpkin patch on Oct. 19. This autumn outing is perfect for photo opps and fellowship. We will meet at the Tanglewood stables at 10 AM (Be prepared to pay $2 to park). After the hayride, bring your family's picnic lunch, and we'll gather at a playground for some more fun together. Registration deadline for this event is Oct. 9. <https://www.knollwood.org/events/hayride-at-tanglewood>

Halloween Carnival and Trunk or Treat

Wednesday, Oct. 30 - Kids, wear your costumes and bring a treat bag for a night of games, prizes, and candy. If you are interested in helping us with this event, please contact chrissy@knollwood.org.

Kids Connect

October's theme for Kids Connect is Love Your Neighbor. Don't miss out on all of our Wednesday night fun together.

Walking With Jesus

Imagine the difference taking these next steps can make in how we at Knollwood demonstrate our gratitude for God's grace and love.

We hope you will prayerfully consider your next step on our journey of generosity. In October you will receive a letter from our church with your Walking with Jesus commitment card. On Nov. 3, bring your card to worship and leave it at the altar as we celebrate Holy Communion.

Matthew took his first step when he got up from his tax booth to follow Jesus. Out of his gratitude, he took another step and "made Jesus a great feast in his house." (Luke 6: 29) Matthew was taking the first steps of his journey of following in the footsteps of Jesus. We too have an opportunity to respond to Jesus and imitate him through meeting the needs of our neighbors. What will your next step be as we continue to walk with Jesus?

Writers, Artists, and Shutterbugs Wanted

By MARY HIX

Lenten Devotion Chair

The KBC 2020 Lenten Devotional Booklet is coming in February, and we want YOU to contribute. This time we'll be focusing on the parables of Jesus. Please consider writing a devotional/poem/prayer or submitting artwork or photographs on one of the parables. We urge newbie writers and artists to participate! The deadline for submissions is Nov. 1.

We have guidelines to help you write a devotional or submit photographs or artwork. These guidelines and a link to the sign-up sheet can be found on our website under Ministries (click Adult Ministry and then Upcoming Events) or by emailing Mary Hix at mary.hix1@gmail.com. If you'd like to get a sense of what our booklet will be like, please look at the 2018 edition on the KBC website at http://content.knollwood.org/2019\_Documents/Lent18GuideWeb2.pdf.

Award winning writer on “Separate and Unequal, School Segregation in Modern Day America”

October 10, 2019

at Winston-Salem State University,

Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium

More than 600 people have now registered for this city-wide event, initiated by Knollwood but planned by a broad coalition of community partners. Our nationally recognized speaker, Nikole Hannah-Jones, covers racial injustice for The New York Times Magazine, and has spent years chronicling the way official policy has created—Nikole Hannah-Jones and maintains—racial segregation in housing and schools. This fall, her leadership on understanding race in America has gained even greater prominence as she initiated the “1619 Project,” a history and analysis of 400 years of the enslavement of African Americans. A recipient of the MacArthur Genius Grant fellowship, she is also currently writing a book on school segregation called The Problem We All Live With.

The partners for this event include our city’s three teacher education programs, major non-profit organizations, foundations, and business. But churches and faith communities are crucial leaders—including African-American churches, predominantly white churches like ours, Temple Emanuel, the Winston-Salem Ministers’ Conference, and Interfaith Winston-Salem. While we first conceived this evening as a lead-off event for our Faith in the City series (returning in November), its significance has grown. We pray this address will help place our city’s challenges in national and historical context. To read more and to secure a spot for yourself, go to equityforsyth.com and complete the Eventbrite registration.

Introduction to Zentangles®

with Sylvia Marvelli

Thursday, October 17 • 6:30-8 PM

Zentangle® is a method of using repeated strokes on paper to induce a meditative state. These strokes relax our focus and the patterns result in unexpected and beautiful expressions of art. There are no mistakes in Zentangles®. Join us to discover your inner creativity and experience a renewed sense of well being.
All materials will be provided.

Zentangle® Beyond the Basics with Sylvia Marvelli

Thursday, November 7 • 6:30 - 8 PM

If you have previously attended a Zentangle® workshop please join us to explore some new tangles and create beautiful images.

All materials will be provided.

A Flower Arrangement

Pottery - Clay for Christmas

with Rodney Stilwell & Pam Boehme

Thursday, November 14 • 6:30-8:30 PM

We'll gather in small groups and begin to prepare for Christmas. To celebrate we'll learn to use clay to make ornaments of angels and stars that can hang in our homes or be shared as gifts. After the class, our ornaments will be fired and ready in time for the Advent season.
Ages 16 and up; class maximum: 16

Who Do You Love

By JOSH GODWIN

Minister of Youth and Recreation

“Who do you love?” In 1956 Bo Diddley asked this question as the chorus spread over his staple guitar riffs in his hit song by the same name. Grammatical correctness aside, the song took root and was covered by numerous artists until, in 1978, George Thorogood and the Destroyers included their cover as the second track on their album

“Move It On Over.” The slide-guitar-led blues-rock track became a radio staple for much of the next decade and the rickety rolling riff at the start of the song remains clear in many an American ear.

Now, why are you reading about Bo Diddley and George Thorogood in a newsletter piece for KBC.ym? Because this question, “Who do you love?,” while certainly an anthemic chorus, remains a pertinent and poignant question to us today.

At our beach retreat last month, we pondered this question in our time together with youth. Who do we love? Jesus tells us near the end of Matthew 22 that all the Law hangs on two simple directives: love God, love your neighbor as yourself. This is the basis of how we follow God’s leading for us. Who do we love? We love God, we love others, and we love ourselves.

We reflected on those three aspects of Jesus’s directive, and in reflecting on those we began to wonder how we do this? Not only “who do we love?” but “how do we love?” How do we love God? How do we love our neighbor? How do we love ourself? These are tough questions. These are questions that Christians, and all of humanity, have been asking and re-asking for millenia. I don’t know if our young people found any new answers on Topsail Island, but they did engage these difficult questions without fear. They boldly asked these questions of themselves and of each other throughout that weekend.

As we continue on this new year of adventures with KBC.ym, these brief moments we spent in the relative solitude of the beach retreat to ask ourselves these questions, were precious. It got our minds turning and our hearts swirling. It got our hands ready to do and our feet ready to move. These are the questions we circle back to, and the answers we continually search for. Who knows if we’ll ever find them. But maybe the answers to “Who do you love” and “How do you love” are not a final point but the continuing actions along the way to where we’re going together.
